

Advanced Communications Module

Trafficware's ATMS.now has a fully integrated Advanced Communications module, expanding an agency's capabilities and visibility over their extended network of controllers.

Capabilities

The major functions of the application include:

- Additional 200 drops on the same server for a maximum of 400 drops
- Access to all Server and Admin menus on the client side, including:
 - Server activity
 - Server Events by drop
 - Admin Events by drop
- Provides faster response time

Below: With the Advanced Communications Module, users are able to see status directly from the client side.
